DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election of group II in the reply filed on 5/9/07 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).

Claims 20-25 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected group, there being no allowable generic or linking claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 17-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

4. Claim 17 recites "sufficient distance". It is not clear what distance would be considered "sufficient".

5. Claim 18 recites the limitation "the homogenized fluid product". There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. It is not clear which fluid component or product is being referred to. It is not clear which materials are being mixed, and at what temperature relations.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

7. Claims 1-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bertocchi [Pat. No. 5,993,876].

Bertocchi teaches a method for heat treating a homogenized puree fluid by feeding product ingredients to a strainer assembly (Figure 2, #4), feeding the stream of fluid to a local constriction with a downstream high-shear mixing zone (Figures 2-3, #9), introducing an amount of the fluid at a second temperature into the high-shear zone (Figure 3, #10), the first fluid having a temperature of 95°C upstream of the mixing zone and a temperature of 80°C after the mixing zone (column 5, line 19), the two fluids inherently having the same concentration, a volumetric pump which acts as supply source for the second fluid (Figure 2, #5), and the first fluid splitting into separate streams in order to flow around the constriction (Figure 3, #10).

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments filed 2/4/08 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that Bertocchi does not teach a constriction with high shear mixing. However, Figure 3 of Bertocchi clearly illustrates a constriction where element #10 protrudes into the mixing chamber (#9) to create a high shear mixing zone.

Applicant argues that Bertocchi does not teach heat transfer in the mixing chamber. However, Bertocchi clearly teach the first fluid having a temperature of 95°C when entering the mixing chamber and a temperature of 80°C when leaving the mixing chamber (column 5, line 19).

In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., exclusively heating the fluid in the mixing chamber) are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

Applicant argues that Bertocchi does not teach two streams. However, Figure 3 of Bertocchi clearly illustrates recirculating a stream of fluid (#9) as well as another stream (#10) which is split into plural smaller streams (#11).

Conclusion

9. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
